

Certified Agile Leadership® (CAL) Course

Expand your capability—and that of your senior management team—to lead an engaged organization in today's rapidly changing business environment. Become a certified Agile leader and discover how you can harness the benefits of Agile, Lean and other creative organizational approaches to achieve healthy business growth in the midst of unpredictable challenges—without burning out or sacrificing your personal life.

Work with one of only six people in the world certified to teach the Certified Agile Leadership® (CAL) content; he's also one of the team members who developed this certification for the international Scrum Alliance. In just two-and-a-half days, you'll explore the best information and scientific research from multiple fields of study to learn how effective leadership helps you achieve your purpose with the flexibility to capitalize on the strengths of your organization.

COURSE TOPICS & LEARNING OBJECTIVES

Merge Agile approaches into your leadership style. Whether your organization applies Agile at the team level or you're just getting your feet wet with an Agile framework, this Certified Agile Leadership® course will help you improve your ability to:

- Describe the origins of Agile and how it helps organizations thrive in complexity
- Apply an Agile approach to change
- Stay competitive in a continually evolving national and global marketplace
- Structure your organization according to principles of organizational agility, instead of silos, to better align efforts

By the end of our time together, you'll be able to:

- Appreciate how to lead effectively amid uncertainty, complexity, and rapid change
- Demonstrate knowledge of Agile values, approaches, and practices
- Identify more creative solutions to leadership and organizational challenges through increased self-awareness, a mindset of growth, and the ability to engage with others
- Align and empower teams to deliver more customer value
- Personally integrate feedback and experiments into your leadership style
- Create a personal plan for the future
- Use a simple leadership language pattern that leads directly to higher autonomy, mastery, and purpose
- Take a collaborative, continuous-improvement approach to organizational effectiveness
- Encourage change in others and facilitate organizational change

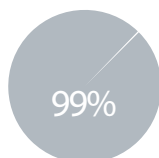

CAL TRAINING ALSO INCLUDES

- The Leadership Circle 360 Evaluation and Debrief, a $500 value
- Two-year membership in the Scrum Alliance, a $50 value
- Access to free Agile and Scrum resources

Certified Agile Leadership® (CAL) Course

As part of your preparation for this intensive workshop with Agile For All, you'll complete the Leadership Circle 360 Evaluation by asking colleagues in your organization to fill out a short feedback survey on your leadership effectiveness. Then, during the workshop, you'll debrief your results with our Leadership Circle coach. As you uncover personal tendencies that helped you reach your current leadership level but now may hold you back from even greater success, you'll identify opportunities for personal improvement that can serve as a catalyst for change.

Throughout the program, you'll also appreciate Agile For All's brain-friendly training style—based on the science of adult learning—that employs interactive experiences in a collaborative setting.

With successful course completion, you achieve the designation of Certified Agile Leader®.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND

This course is for you if:

- You're an executive, middle manager, or other leader with organizational influence
 - You're a leader interested in improving organizational agility to prepare for and respond to change
 - You're an executive who wants to apply the Agile framework to your own leadership of an Agile organization
 - You're a leader who supports, leads, or interacts with Agile teams
 - You're a leader who's sponsoring, requesting, or involved with an Agile adoption within your organization

WHAT PARTICIPANTS SAY

- "I expected to get a 'pre-recorded' and 'scripted' class. Instead, I got a collaborative experience, which was worlds better than the typical trainings I've sat through."
- "Very practical and helpful information. It actually applies to more than just the workforce. This class was very interactive, which helped our team significantly in learning and applying the material."
